

LOVE'S ETERNAL TRIANGLE CAUSE OF WIFE MURDER

WISCONSIN SCHOOL TEACHER RECOUNTS LIFE TRAGEDY OF ALLEGED WRONGS.

SHOT MAN'S WIFE, DEFIED POLICE AND TRIED SUICIDE

FORMER GOVERNOR OF WISCONSIN WILL DEFEND HER IF SHE OVERCOMES WOUND.

By Associated Press.
Waukesha, Wis., June 22.—Miss Grace Lusk, high school teacher, who shot and killed Mrs. David Roberts, wife of a former state official, with whom she professed to be in love, was served today with a warrant charging her with murder in the first degree. The warrant was read to her in the hospital, where her life still hangs in the balance from a bullet wound she inflicted on herself after standing off the police for half an hour.

Despite her protestations of lasting love for Dr. Roberts, Miss Lusk indicated bitterness when she was placed under formal arrest. "Oh, God," she called, "are they going to take me and let him go free?"

Tonight Miss Lusk's condition took a turn for the worse, and the physicians who were constantly watching her feared that an infection might develop in the wound which would prove fatal. But at times it seemed she was growing stronger and physicians declare she would live to be prosecuted.

Father at Beside.
There was a pathetic scene at the hospital today when Dr. A. P. Lusk visited his daughter. In a broken voice Dr. Lusk asked:

"You poor girl, why did you do it?" "If you only knew, father, the life I have lived, it was terrible, and I know God will forgive me," she replied.

A letter that Miss Lusk dictated to Dr. R. E. Rives while she held him and others at bay at the foot of a stairway in her home after the shooting was made public today.

It was addressed to Miss Winifred Frye, Santa Barbara, Cal., and reads in part:

"He loved me dearly, but it all came just as you said it would. I called him just before Mrs. Roberts came here. He said that he had told her that he loved me. When Mrs. Roberts arrived she told me he said I was chafing him."

Former Governor to Defend.
Miss Lusk further commented bitterly on Dr. Roberts when one of the unsigned masculine notes found among her effects was called to her attention. "It is spring now," one of the notes read, "and I feel that I want to walk with you in green pastures."

"Oh, he has the maudlin and common sentiment that characterizes only the horse doctor," she said, when reminded of the note. "I thought his compilation of ideals was real, but he is a charlatan. He has sacrificed his wife and me on the altar of desire."

The wounded school teacher expressed no joy when told by physicians that her chance of recovery was still good.

"That's too bad," she said. "I want to die."

Miss Lusk, her father and her brother today engaged Francis E. McGovern, former governor of Wisconsin, to conduct her defense. The coroner's inquest has been indefinitely postponed.

A letter evidently written by Miss Lusk to Mrs. Roberts while the former was making a visit to Chicago and recently, was made public. It read:

"It has been a desire with me for a long time to tell you frankly about the state of affairs between Dr. Roberts and myself. I have asked him repeatedly to tell you the whole story, but you seem to have him terrorized to a pitiful degree. You must have known for many years that there did not exist between your husband and yourself the honest confidence that is essential in the higher state of marriage."

"You must have known for a long time that your husband's affections had been passed from you; that he cared for someone else. That is sufficient annulment of any marriage vow that ever was given. I am sorry that it ever started. It has wrecked my life and hurt those who are dear to me."

HIGHEST TEXAS PRICE FOR WOOL IS PAID; DOUBLE PRICE YEAR AGO

By Associated Press.
San Antonio, June 22.—The highest price ever paid for wool in Texas was the record made Thursday afternoon when 1,225,000 pounds of the Kerville county product was sold to Boston firms for $700,000. The prices paid are almost double those of last spring.

ROTARIANS NAME KANSAS CITY NEXT MEETING PLACE

By Associated Press.
Atlanta, Ga., June 22.—Executive officers of the International Association of Rotary clubs in meeting today selected Kansas City as the 1918 meeting place of the association. Salt Lake City was Kansas City's only opponent for the meeting next year. C. L. Perry of Chicago was re-elected international secretary.

GRANGER RAISES $6,846.50 FOR RED CROSS IN DAY

Special to The News.
Granger, June 22.—Granger with a population of about 2,500, raised $6,846.50 the first day of their Red Cross campaign.

The Taylor chapter asked Granger to raise $4,000, but after so successful a campaign the first day, Granger decided to reach the $10,000 mark before closing the subscription list.

AGED FATHER KILLS SON TO SAVE HIS OWN LIFE

By Associated Press.
Felsenthal, Ark., June 22.—With tears streaming down his cheeks, Dr. J. N. Perrine, aged 75, told a coroner's jury today that he was forced to shoot and kill his only son yesterday to save his own life. It was said that his son, Otis, aged 32, a printer, who recently returned from Mexico, was intoxicated and attempted to kill his father. A coroner's jury exonerated the gray-haired physician and the prosecuting attorney, who attended the hearing, said that the case is ended so far as he is concerned.

CHINA SPRINGS VOTES BONDS TO ERECT $12,000 SCHOOL

A hard-fought bond election was won by a vote of 71 to 28 for $12,000 to be used in erecting a new school at China Springs. The election was held Friday in the China Springs precinct. Several Waco men were instrumental in assisting the passage of the bond issue, one of the principle workers being James Hays Quarles. As soon as plans can be completed work will start on the erection of this $12,000 school building, which will be modern in every respect.

Y. M. B. L. DIRECTORS MEET WITH W. W. NAMAN

Directors of the Young Men's Business League will meet next Tuesday night at the home of W. W. Naman in the nature of a courtesy to Mr. Naman, who soon is going to do his "bit" in connection with the great world war.

Mr. Naman is making plans to leave Waco for the front if he is called there by the authorities of the United States, and it seems certain that he cannot attend many more meetings of directors of the Y. M. B. L.

EXCESS PROFITS TAX IS SENATE'S KNOTTY PROBLEM

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 22.—Intricacies of the excess profit taxes occupied the senate finance committee all of today in its revisions of the war revenue bill and further discussion of the publishers' tax probably will be postponed until next week.

Application of the excess profit taxes to individuals in addition to corporations and partnerships has complicated the work of completing that section. Exemptions still are under discussion, and the rate to be levied also remains to be finally settled.

Surplus of corporations, the committee has decided, will be reached by a sur tax in imposing the excess profits levy. Some sur tax exemptions, however, will be allowed on undisputed surplus.

WORKMEN AND SOLDIERS OF RUSSIA PASS UNDER

By Associated Press.
Petrograd, June 22.—The congress of the all-Russian workmen's and soldiers' delegates by a vote of 543 to 126 today adopted a minority resolution approving the creation of a coalition government, the statement of the socialist minister on the government's general policy and calling on the provisional government energetically to prosecute its political program, especially in the direction of peace without annexations or indemnities.

The resolution also favored a struggle against attempts at counter revolution, insisted on the immediate convocation of an assembly and the creation of a single organization representing the entire organized democracy of Russia, including peasant delegates, to which the socialist members would be responsible for all their interior and exterior policies.

A Five Minutes Talk About County Jail With County Commissioners is Asked By the News

By Frank Baldwin.
I WANT just a five-minute talk with the four county commissioners for McLennan county.

A good many busy readers will not be sufficiently concerned about the county jail to care about the detailed information, but I feel I have the right to ask the four commissioners to look at jail conditions for a moment through other eyes. Constant repetition of sights there may have dulled their senses.

The men I wish to read this are: L. B. DAUGHTREY, Waco. J. N. BOYD, Waco. J. F. BURTON, Riesel. F. L. WILLENBORG, West.

Of course, you men remember the recent report of the grand jury regarding conditions in the jail. I need not repeat their charges of about two months ago that insane patients are confined in proximity to other inmates; that juveniles mingle with hardened criminals; that crowded conditions make the jail unfit as a habitation.

It has been a good while since this report was made. And it may be that you men have under consideration ways and means of changing conditions. I only ask

NEGRO AUTOISTS KILL GIRL; MOB LYNCHES DRIVER

INTOXICATED PARTY OF NEGROES IN AUTO BREAK WHITE GIRL'S NECK.

Special to The News.
Houston, June 22.—Ben Harper, Houston negro, was lynched Thursday night at Courtney, Texas, near Hempstead, according to telephone reports received here Friday.

Harper was the driver of an automobile which figured in the accidental death of a 12-year-old girl, Ella May Goodrum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodrum of Nevada. Six or seven other negroes were arrested and are said to be in jail at Anderson.

Harper was strung up to a tree beside the road near where the little girl met her death, according to reports. The girl was riding horseback on the Navasota-Houston road Thursday morning when two cars, a Ford and Cadillac, occupied by drunken negroes, came along. The Ford struck the horse and threw the girl to the ground. She was then run over by the Cadillac and her neck broken.

She was at Courtney visiting Justice of the Peace Abernethy of that town. Persons at Hempstead and Courtney would give but meager information about the lynching Friday.

Among the negroes jailed at Anderson are Alex Barber, who runs a barber shop on Washington avenue; James Bailey, 1318 Highland street, and O. Dean. They left Houston Tuesday morning to celebrate the 19th at Brenham. They were on their way home when the accident occurred. Barber had just bought the Ford. Harper was hired to drive it. Harper was lynched because the Courtney people believed him responsible for the Goodrum girl's death. Up to two weeks ago, Harper was employed at the Central garage. He lived near the Grand Central depot.

The driver of the Cadillac car was Manuel Alexander of Houston. It is not known who was with him. He ran the Cadillac car in the rent service.

DEAD ONE HAD ESCAPED.

Courtney, June 22.—Thursday eight Houston negroes were arraigned here before Justice of the Peace Abernethy, charged with having run down and killed Ella May Goodrum, a 12-year-old girl. One of the negroes, Ben Harper, who drove the first car which knocked down the horse on which the child was riding, escaped from the officers who were taking the negro to jail at Anderson. This morning his dead body was found hanging to a tree by the road near where the girl was killed. The first automobile party ran down the horse and the larger car, which was following, ran over the girl's neck, killing her instantly. The other negroes are said to be in jail at Anderson. Reports that others of the party had been lynched are denied. People refuse to discuss the subject.

CONSTRUCTION OF R. I. SPUR TO ARKANSAS ARMY CAMP

By Associated Press.
Little Rock, Ark., June 22.—Construction of the spur to be built by the Iron Mountain railway to the army cantonment here will be started tomorrow morning, it was announced tonight by the contractor in charge. The site is two and one-half miles north of Little Rock and a total of ten miles of track will be built. Alex Robertson of St. Louis, vice president of the Iron Mountain, arrived today to supervise the work and said that it will be pushed with all possible speed and that he plans to have the work completed in two weeks.

YELLOW JOURNALS OF MEXICO ARE EXCLUDED FROM TEXAS

By Associated Press.
San Antonio, Tex., June 22.—Agents of the department of justice announced today that hereafter so-called "extras" of Mexican newspapers containing German propaganda will be excluded from Texas. Receipt of a copy of a City of Mexico newspaper containing a lurid account of a purported sea battle off Helligland was responsible for the order.

that you hurry in the light of what I saw yesterday.

You remember, Mr. Daughtrey, the white-haired wreck of a woman who huddles in a kitchen chair as you enter the first floor runaround? She sits there, hopeless in her gaunt-cheeked feebleness while the thirty-three miscellaneous men prisoners saunter by and gaze through the barred door upon her misery.

We should do something for her, shouldn't we?

M. R. BOYD, you have noticed that the cots have gradually disappeared, and that the prisoners are sleeping on stone surfaces by the varied stains from years of refuse from its overcrowded population.

I have heard that originally there were more cots—probably half enough for the inmates at the opening of a criminal court term, but that certain unruly prisoners have torn them down at various times during quarrels among themselves and with jailers. Of course, it is a question whether the new inmates who didn't tear beds down have a right to a sleeping place other than the floor. It might cost a little money, it is true.

We should do something for them, shouldn't we?

WHEN we think about sleeping, though, I would like to ask you, Commissioner Burton, whether you ever were about the jail around midnight? Did you hear the epileptic negroes, Clara Burns, on the second floor, go through one of her violent spells? Clara has been there ten years, you know, and her attacks are frequent. She, too, probably grows restless on the stone floor of her cell.

No one in the jail could be expected to sleep when Clara begins to shriek, do you think? Or do you feel prisoners could grow used to such a thing?

We should do something for them, shouldn't we?

COMMISSIONER WILLENBORG, you may have read of the Black Hole of Calcutta. As I remember it the Black Hole was underground and was really blacker than the negro-Mexican runway and cells on the second floor of our jail. But I question whether the average space allotted was any more generous at Calcutta than in Waco.

As you look into the runway, a 12x30 feet affair, you see vague outlines of black, shiny bodies and catch the gleam of eyes. You do not recognize the faces. The single electric light at the east end was not lighted, so I cannot tell the effect on these human beings of their imprisonment, but if you think a moment and divide seventy-five, the number of prisoners that have been imprisoned in this section, into the amount of space of this runway, you will have the answer that each prisoner would have an average exercise space all to himself of about three feet square.

We should do something for them, shouldn't we?

AS TO little annoyances such as a jail of this kind breeds, I want to ask you commissioners whether you noticed the omnipresent brown dirt staining the partitions?

You see, the rats run around the oiled floors, mix with the food refuse, and then climb up the latrine.

SHERIFF FLEMING TO BE HOST TO BARBERS AT MONSTER BARBECUE

All barbers of McLennan county will feed sumptuously next Thursday.

They are to be guests of Sheriff S. S. Fleming at a great barbecue, and all shops in Waco will be closed at 11:30. It was stated Friday afternoon, while it was stated Friday afternoon, while those in all other parts of the county are expected to use some time Thursday morning and these barbers to attend.

The barbecue will be given at Sheriff Fleming's country home west of Waco several miles, and there will be choice barbecued meats, flanked with other good things. The barbers of the county will be accompanied by their families and a pleasant program has been planned.

The start will be from Waco at 12 o'clock, leaving from in front of the county courthouse. Sheriff Fleming is to provide autos for all attending from Waco, and will have these in readiness.

U. S. GUARDS ORDERED TO FIRE ON BORDER CROSSERS

By Associated Press.
El Paso, June 22.—Three Mexican soldiers kidnapped a Mexican labor agent late today at the American end of the international bridge while the United States army guard had his back turned. Gen. George Bell Jr. has demanded his immediate release and has ordered guards to fire on any Mexican soldiers crossing the line.

ticed sides to their loft above. A couple of them are so tame that they eat out of the assistant jailer's hands.

Medical men say that rats are a prolific carrier of loathsome disease, and it is possible in such quarters that tuberculosis and syphilis may travel from the rotting inmates to the sound. It might be, if we put a little thought on this phase of the matter, that we might better protect the young boys and the blameless insane that are housed in our county jail.

We should do something about it, shouldn't we?

YOU gentlemen of the commission, you will pardon a moment for those readers who have followed us this far. You may go to the county jail between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. if you are interested. It is possible your view point may not be mine, and I would rather you would not form your conclusions from what I say if you have the time to see for yourself.

Editor's Note: Should the county commissioners have jail information of interest to discuss, The News will print the details tomorrow.

ROW OVER SHIPS SENT TO WILSON FOR SETTLEMENT

GOETHALS ORDERED TO SPEED UP PROGRAM AND DENMAN SUPERVISES PRICES.

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 22.—The contest between Chairman Denman of the shipping board and Major General Goethals, manager of the board's emergency fleet corporation, for authority to exercise powers granted by congress in providing a merchant fleet, will be settled by President Wilson giving General Goethals the authority with directions that he build all the ships possible, both steel and wood.

General Goethals will be authorized to commander immediately all shipping now building, speed up its construction and spend the $500,000,000 appropriated by congress for shipbuilding. Chairman Denman will retain powers necessary for operating and chartering ships and as president of the fleet corporation will continue to pass finally on contracts for construction.

Power Not Delegated.

The power granted to the president to commander steel ships probably will not be delegated to any one for the present. The government hopes to arrive at some arrangement as to steel prices, which will make it unnecessary to commander.

The dispute over prices to be paid for steel took a new turn today when Chairman Denman asked the federal trade commission to investigate the cost of steel manufacture with a view to arriving at a fair price and General Goethals requested the steel committee of the council of defense to take the matter up. Mr. Denman has balked at paying more than $56 a ton for steel and refused to sign contracts made by General Goethals calling for ninety-five dollars.

The question of price was gone over by General Goethals today with members of the steel committee, most of whom are steel manufacturers and authorities on the product.

Seek Cost Basis.

Mr. Denman's action in requesting the trade departments in requiring the steel manufacturers' price, became known tonight in a statement which said that the treasury department wanted some government agency to arrive at costs so that the individual consumer might be protected against a raise in prices which would come when the government went into the market for large quantities of steel at low prices.

At the trade commission's offices, it was said that the steel investigation probably will be started immediately and that the cost price developed probably would be used as a basis for legislation to be asked protecting individual consumers from high prices. The commission has no power to fix prices either for the government or for an individual, but prices it recommended probably will be adopted by the fleet corporation as a basis for bargaining with the steel plants.

If the steel plants decline to sell at the trade commission figures, the government is determined to obtain steel at that price and can exercise the power of commandeering.

RUSS FRONT NOW DEVELOPS SIGN OF NEW OFFENSE

TROOPS OF NEW REPUBLIC BEGIN BOMBARDMENT OF GERMAN TRENCH LINES.

FURIOUS FIGHTING TAKES PLACE ON FRENCH FRONT

GERMANS ATTEMPT DRIVE AT CHAMPAGNE SECTOR, BUT ARE DRIVEN BACK.

By Associated Press.
The French and Germans in the region north and northeast of Soissons and in several sectors in Champagne have been engaged in furious fighting for two days with varying results while in the eastern theatre in Volhynia and Galicia, the Russians are using their guns against the Austro-German lines in bombardments, which may mark the commencement of infantry action.

On the British line in France, bad weather has brought the operations of General Haig's army almost to a standstill except for bombardments, which are being reciprocated by the German patrol reconnaissances and aerial operations. Likewise in the Austro-Italian theatre the offensive of the Italians, which was resumed on Wednesday on the front southeast of Trent, has slackened materially.

Having lost back to the French the greater portion of the trenches they had captured in the vicinity of Vaux-aillon, the Germans east of this region have delivered violent attacks along a front of about a mile extending from Epine Chevreney to La Royer farm. Picked troops in large numbers were used in the assault and again, as before, at Vaux-aillon the French guns inflicted heavy casualties on the Germans, driving them back into their trenches except in the center, where after repeated attempts the forces of the German crown prince entered a French salient.

In Champagne southeast of Mezonvillers, according to the Berlin war office, the German officers in a surprise attack conquered a French position, but the French later regained a portion of it. Near Carnillet the French penetrated the German line, but were unable to consolidate the position, owing to a heavy counter attack.

Disorders have again broken out among the sailors of the Russian Black Sea fleet at Sebastopol. They are reported to be connected with the retirement of the commander of the fleet, and propaganda by forces of reaction. The trouble is not believed to be serious.

OVERSUBSCRIBED LIBERTY LOAN 52 PER CENT SHOWS FINAL M'ADOO STATISTICS

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 22.—Liberty loan subscriptions totaled $3,035,226,859, an oversubscription of nearly 52 per cent. Final tabulation was announced officially tonight, showing that more than 4,000,000 persons bought bonds.

The first federal reserve district led the list with subscriptions totaling $1,136,778,400, or more than three times the amount subscribed in the next district, Chicago, $357,195,950.

SEVENTY-SEVEN MILLION HAS BEEN RAISED BY COUNTRY FOR RED CROSS

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 22.—Reported contributions to the Red Cross $100,000,000, of which more than $33,000,000 had come from New York City and $44,000,000 from the remainder of the country.

Three days of the campaign period, including Sunday, remain in which to raise the additional $23,000,000. Although pledges have rolled in at the rate of $15,000,000 a day this week, campaign managers tonight expressed fear that the average might not be maintained.

DIPLOMATIC EXCHANGES BRAZIL PUBLISHED

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 22.—Diplomatic exchanges by which Brazil notified the United States of the revocation of her decree of neutrality and the United States acknowledged Brazil's action in the interest of the Pan-American solidarity were published today by the state department.

Ambassador De Gama said he was instructed by President Braz to say that his government "recognized the fact that one of the belligerents is a constituent portion of the American continent and that we are bound to that belligerent by traditional friendship and the same sentiment in the defense of the vital interests of America and the accepted principles of law."

PLAN SIMILARITY OF FOOD BILL TO THAT IN CANADA

Washington, June 22.—Food control in the United States and Canada will be made as nearly alike as conditions in the two countries will permit. In many respects it will amount almost to a joint control, it was said today, after a conference between Herbert C. Hoover and W. J. Hanna, just appointed Canadian food controller.

Food laws already enacted in Canada, Mr. Hanna said, closely approach the administration's food legislation pending in congress. The purpose of his trip to Washington was to permit him to study the American program that Canada might follow it as closely as possible. In most respects, Mr. Hanna explained, the United States and Canada have identical food problems.

THE RED CROSS

BY DR. FRANK CRANE

IT is a curious quirk in the human mind that it has believed all along that while system, organization and intelligent efficiency are necessary in such affairs as business, crime, war, or anything else that's hard and dangerous, you should conduct all matters of charity or religion as loosely and incompetently as possible.

John J. Holland used to say that the strongest proof that the church is a divine institution is that it has been so mismanaged, and if God had not specially looked after it it would long ago have succumbed to the fate of the bunglers.

We are beginning to learn that the business of helping men needs as much sense and planning as the business of hurting them. In fact, it takes greater skill to give money than it does to get money, if you are not going to do more harm than good.

In the grim business of war the humane impulses are profoundly stirred. The heart of the world leaps to bind up the wounds of the injured, and in other ways to alleviate the terrific plague.

For many years these impulses found expression as lamely and as occasionally and as imperfectly as is usual in all eleemosynary matters. Kindly sisters of mercy, priests and lay workers did what they could on the field of battle, with the result that for the most part the wounded perished miserably and ravaged lands were left in unrelieved desolation.

It was only in the latter half of the last century that we began to put some system and foresight into this humane work, and the Red Cross movement was organized to bring relief not only in war but in such great calamities as fire, earthquake and flood.

It has grown to great proportions. All civilized governments recognize its beneficent results.

The Red Cross is the vast, humane, helpful instincts of the human race, organized into their most efficient expression.

It cares for the unfortunate, without regard to race, color, or creed, simply because they are human.

It is the noblest forthputting of charity known. It brings to the victims of war help and succor as expert and as intelligent as military science brings to their destruction.

It is the business of a soldier to kill. It is the business of the Red Cross to save, to heal, to relieve.

There is no enterprise that should more strongly appeal to the lover of his kind than the Red Cross.

"All good men," said a philosopher, "are of one religion." Could any better field be found where men of all shades of opinion can unite to help their fellowmen than the Red Cross?

U. S. GUNNERS IN FIGHT WITH SUB SCORED 3 TIMES

AT RANGE OF 600 YARDS U. S. MARKSMEN HIT MARK WITH EVERY SHOT FIRED.

At an Atlantic Port, June 22.—In a story received here today by the wireless operator on a vessel, he told of hearing distress calls from two British vessels which were being attacked by submarines, but that apparently they succeeded in driving the submarines off.

"After the unsuccessful attempt to sink the two ships we considered we were apparently out of danger," he said.

"We were on a zigzag course and making full speed when the lookout sighted a lifeboat. We steered to see what was in it. It was empty."

"About twenty minutes after passing the empty lifeboat, or about 4.30 p. m., one of the gunners sighted a torpedo straight for us. He shouted to the bridge."

"Here she comes! Torpedo port side."

"The chief officer, who was on the bridge, shouted to the quartermaster: 'Hard starboard.' We swung off. The torpedo had a red head about sixteen inches in diameter. She was about ten feet long. The torpedo struck us on the port side a glancing blow amidships right near the engine room. Our ship was empty and we all thought she had been exploded."

"Simultaneously the ship's whistle blew short and successive blasts, which was the signal to abandon ship and man the life boats."

"I then sent out a signal of distress, which was picked up by the Manchester Port."

"It was then ordered to my position in the starboard boat."

"Those in charge of the lifeboat on the port side had difficulty in lowering the lifeboat on account of boiling hot water coming from the ship's overboard exhaust, which partly filled them. The crew of this boat was mostly foreigners and were greatly excited. They were ordered at the point of a gun to be quiet and sit down. Otherwise, though, the port and starboard boats were launched clearly of falls and without incident."

"The captain, who had remained on the ship, found on examination the torpedo had failed to explode. We were then ordered back on ship. We were lying perfectly still for at least an hour."

"When the commander of the submarine saw our crew coming back from lifeboats and climbing upon deck he immediately gave up his chase for two other British merchant ships and started for us again. The submarine was about 2,000 yards off our star beam."

"Suddenly came the command: 'Man the guns!'"

"The gun crews scrambled to the deck. They ran fore and aft to their respective positions, the chief gunner gave them their ranges from the bridge."

"When at 600 yards off our starboard quarter a shell from our forward gun hit her and she submerged. Again she appeared and our aft gun hit her and blew away her periscope. Another shot from our forward gun fell right on top of her. There was a shower of black specks which rose high in the air, followed by a great commotion, bubbles of water and a light blue smoke arising from the stern of the U-boat where a second before had been the eyes of our enemy."

ATROCITIES OF GERMANS AMONG BELGIANS TOLD

BELGIAN WAR MISSION VERIFIES REPORTS OF BARBARISM IN THEIR COUNTRY.

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 22.—The Belgian mission was received today in the senate chamber with a great demonstration. An address by Baron Moncheur, head of the mission, expressing Belgium's gratitude for America's aid and sympathy, was punctuated with frequent applause. Afterward all senators were introduced to members of the mission.

The baron addressed the senate as follows:

"You all know the unspeakable evils which have befallen my unfortunate country—the unprovoked invasion, accompanied by a deliberate system of terror, the burning of many of our thriving cities and of innumerable villages, the massacre of thousands of our peaceful citizens, the pillage and devastation of our country."

"Then followed the iron hand of foreign domination, enormous war contributions, ruinous requisitions of all sorts from our people, the seizure of the raw material of industry, and even the theft of our machinery, which was sent into the country of our enemies for their own use, so that now the silence of death reigns in our industrial centers, which before had been the most active in Europe."

80,000 in Bondage.

"Eighty thousand Belgians were condemned in the space of one year to various penalties for having displeased the invaders."

"You have learned also of the deportation of our workmen into Germany—a crime the horrors of which, according to the opinion of one of your countrymen, should cause more indignation throughout the entire world than all the previous outrages against the sacred principles of justice and of humanity."

"But Belgium, even in the midst of the terrible misfortunes which have been brought upon her by her fidelity to treaties and by respect for her plighted word, does not regret her decision, and there is not a single Belgian worthy of the name who does not now, as on the first day of the war, approve the judgment of our government that it is better to die, if need be, rather than to live without honor."

"This sentiment will be shared by all the citizens of the great American nation who responded with such enthusiasm and with such unanimity to the noble words of your president, when, in terms which held the world spellbound, he proclaimed the right of justice over force."

Those new minute man sixes shown at the Brown Auto Co.'s showroom not only look good, but they ride easier than any lightweight car you ever rode in.

COCCHIE DEFIES RETURN, INSISTS HE IS INNOCENT

RUTH CRUGER MURDER SUSPECT WILL FIGHT ALL EFFORTS AT EXTRADITION.

By Associated Press.

Bologna, Thursday, June 21.—Cocchi declares he knew Ruth Cruger only two days before she disappeared, that his conduct toward her was entirely correct and he left America only for domestic reasons.

His father and brother, both machinists here, say they are convinced of his innocence by statements he made before it was suspected he might be arrested. They gave to Senator Venturini, Cocchi's lawyer, letters the accused wrote them before he came home submitting them to show there was nothing in them which could be construed as an indication of guilt.

Police have questioned his wife's flight, but they could throw little light on the case. Cocchi's wife left Italy more than ten years ago.

Senator Venturini asserts Cocchi did not lose his Italian citizenship while in America and points out that in spite of the extradition treaty of 1884 between Italy and the United States Italy does not give up her own subjects to answer for a crime committed abroad, but punishes them by Italian law.

DEEP HIDDEN TUNNEL.

By Associated Press.

New York, June 22.—Overhauling of the police department as the result of its failure to clear up the mystery surrounding the murder of Ruth Cruger was resumed today when Commissioner Woods announced that the "shakeup" had only begun. The policemen were habits of the motorcycle repair shop of Alfred Cocchi, where the body of the murdered girl was found after she had been missing four months.

Basis for the suspension of the patrolmen was their alleged disregard for an order concerning the arrest of motor car speeders, but the authorities were frank in saying that their investigations were disclosing an alliance between the police and Cocchi by which money had been extorted from speeders and the cases never officially reported. The methods said to have been employed were to serve the offender with a summons, then tell him that Cocchi was a friend of the traffic court magistrate and that the matter could be "fixed." This was done, it is asserted by agents who turned over the money to Cocchi, who divided with the police. Alonzo P. Cooper, acting captain of detectives in charge of the search for the Cruger girl, and who was suspended with three detectives last night by Commissioner Woods, was the principal witness at the investigation of the case begun today by Leonard M. Wallstein, commissioner of accounts, acting under orders of Mayor Mitchell. He was questioned closely regarding a report by a detective sergeant concerning the search for Miss Cruger, and could not remember that such a report ever had been made.

Mrs. Grace Humiston, though whose efforts the body of Miss Ruth Cruger was found, issued a statement tonight in which she said she believed the tunnel found under Cocchi's shop has an outlet under a building a few doors away, which formerly was occupied by a saloon and operated by a woman. This saloon, according to Mrs. Humiston, was raided about a year ago by the police and a score of young women who were found there were removed.

WARN AGAINST GERMAN BOMBS

Charleston, S. C., June 22.—A warning that German agents are using a small ingeniously constructed bomb for destroying manufacturing plants in enemy territory, was issued today at the office of Major General Wood, commander of the southeastern department. This formal statement was given out.

"We have recently received information that the Germans are sending to France agents whose mission is to cause fires in establishments engaged in national work. For this purpose they are furnished with incendiary bombs, of which the following is a description:

"The bomb is shaped in the form of a pyramid, nine centimeters in height, the larger end measuring nine and one-half centimeters long by seven centimeters wide, the small end eight centimeters long by five and one-half centimeters wide.

"The four sides and the top are made of thin white metal, while the bottom is composed of a thin sheet of cardboard covered with a light colored varnish, the whole being covered in printed paper. On one side are the words: 'Advance special cooked beef, Firgrillo Argentina, Central Buenos Aires' with the picture of an ox. The same words are on the corresponding side, but without the picture. On the remaining sides are instructions for using the (supposed) contents in English, French and Spanish.

"It is improbable that the time bombs will be used in this country should the Germans attempt to use a similar machine here."

Many pretty cars have been seen here of late, but the minute man sixes clubsters have created more enthusiasm than any others ever seen here. Go see them today at the Brown Auto Co.'s showroom.

TO DELAY GUARD DRAFT TO AUG. 5

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 22.—Drafting of the National Guard into the federal army for war service may be delayed until August 5 because under the present plans for drafting the guard in three increments July 15, July 25 and August 5, the relative rank of its officers would be established on an unfair basis. The national defense act provides that National Guard officers shall take rank as of the date of draft.

The additional time thus gained would be valuable to the department in making ready the divisional camps at which the state forces will be mobilized, and also would permit the assembling of additional equipment for the troops.

The department has received numerous requests for early drafting of forces from some states, members of congress stating that the troops were ready and eager for the call, while from the other sections, notably agricultural regions, requests for delay have come as the loss of the number of men involved during harvest period might create a labor shortage.

Preparations for mobilization of the state troops are going forward smoothly, officials say.

Reports from quartermaster contracts show that clothing, tentage and other equipment for the troops will be available. There are sufficient rifles in store to arm every regiment fully. Signal corps and engineer equipment will be available on time, and the only delay anticipated will be with artillery.

On this basis of present returns there will be enough infantry regiments to organize immediately the draft of thirteen or fourteen of the sixteen divisions.

Building of the cantonments, the secretary said, would proceed on present general specifications, although some minor modifications would be made.

The main problems now are those of material and transportation. A new difficulty has presented itself in the shape of a shortage of iron water pipe, an enormous quantity of which will be needed. Material quantity of wooden pipe will be used.

Among regular army officers named as constructing quartermasters is Capt. George E. Thorn, Fort Sam Houston.

Today's order calling National Guard engineers into the federal service applies to engineer troops in the guard establishments of Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Georgia, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Mississippi, Iowa, Kansas, Texas, California and New Jersey.

NO SERIOUS DELAY IN BUILDING ARMY CAMP SITE IS REPORT

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 22.—There will be no serious delay in construction in the sixteen cantonments for the national army, Secretary Baker said today. They will be ready about September 1, the tentative date considered for summoning to the colors the first 625,500 men.

The process of selecting the men, the secretary indicated, probably will be set in motion in July. Regulations for the exemption and selection processes have been prepared and will be made public next week.

Machinery for the task of constructing the sixteen cantonments is virtually complete, and in some cases actual physical preparation have been begun. Most of the contracts have been let, army officers have been detailed to oversee construction, and under an order published today, the engineer units of the National Guard of fifteen states will be mustered into the federal service immediately to aid in technical features of the work.

POLICE TAKE SUFFRAGE SENTINELS IN THEIR CHARGE

Washington, June 22.—The police today began dealing with the suffrage pickets about the white house with a firm hand. It was ordered that no banners were to be permitted to be displayed and twenty policemen were stationed about the white house fence to enforce the order.

Miss Lucy Burns of New York and Miss Catherine Morey of Boston, carriers of a banner who refused to move from in front of one of the white house gates, were arrested and taken to police headquarters.

The police detailed to keep the suffragists away from the white house today were without batons.

DRYS LINE UP TO PUT THEIR SHARE IN FOOD BILL

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 22.—All other phases of the rather perfunctory fight in the house over the food control bill were overshadowed tonight by interest in preparation by prohibition advocates for a determined effort to insert a stronger "dry" provision before the final vote tomorrow.

The section which would authorize the president to limit, regulate, prohibit or reduce the supply of food materials or feeds used in making alcoholic liquors, falls short of the demands of the most of the anti-liquor element. A majority hopes for absolute prohibition of the use of grain for beverage purposes during the war. They are not agreed on any one proposed amendment, however, and their divisions may result in leaving the present provision unchanged.

Except for the prohibition drive, nothing was in sight tonight to prevent passage of the measure tomorrow in the house. Quick action also is looked for in the senate.

Sure you are. Everybody is more or less. Primitive man used to get all excited when the sun went down and he stuck around in his cave praying to the something or other than even savages feel above them and beneath them. And when the sun arose again old p. m. swung his club over his shoulder and ventured forth, declaring he was afraid neither of the light nor the dark nor any something or other that ever was.

Children fear the dark; in a way they're primitive men. And so do we all, when our thoughts go wabbling, fear the black of night.

But with most of us this fear is recognized as the survival of an outgrown ignorance. We banish it from us because we have come to realize that the dark is nothing at all. We have come to know that it's simply a negative, being in truth but the absence of light.

Have we tho, as firmly grasped the truth that all evil, all that men fear, is just as surely nothing at all? The evil is simply a negative, being in itself nothing. 'Tis but the absence of that development we call good.

Hence it has been said, "Resist not evil," and wisely, for who would waste his time fighting a negative, a phantom?

But also it has been said, "Overcome evil with good."

Wow! what a fight you can afford to put up for the positive, for development, for progress.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS

BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

There is prosperity ahead.
Just at present everybody is a bit scared, and business is halting. But the alarm is only temporary.

Curiously enough, war brings good times, financially. Business is booming in England and France. What is going on in Germany, of course, nobody knows, as news from there is manifestly doctored.

We complain of high prices. But that means good times. There never was a period of prosperity accompanied by low prices.

Good times simply mean that money is circulating. It does not mean more production. It means everybody's buying. Consequently, even during the colossal waste of war, there is business prosperity because money is more liquid.

J. Ogden Armour, one of the foremost business men of the country, in a recent newspaper interview, brought out some good points which we ought to have common sense enough to appreciate. He said:

"The huge sums of money and means of huge sums of money and means maximum employment and high wages for all workers. Other conditions peculiar to this war make it certain that this nation will enjoy a period of business and industrial activity the like of which has never been seen, and which is assured whether the war lasts several months or several years."

The probability is that there will be a tightening up of affairs for a while, but it will surely be succeeded by great activity in all lines both of production and distribution.

The loans we are extending to the allies is not at all that much money taken out of the country. On the contrary, it means that billions of dollars will be freed here for the purchase of supplies. And Uncle Sam himself will spend billions more to prepare and support his military operations.

There never was a time when the indications of a period of great prosperity were stronger. Labor is employed at record wages. There are plenty of jobs for everybody, from the common day laborer to the trained expert. There is no reason why anybody that can work at all cannot make money.

Let us cheer up. And above all things keep up "business as usual!"

Unc' Billy Gives Himself Away

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS

Never had Unc' Billy Possum played that old trick of his better than he was playing it now. Farmer Brown's boy knew that Unc' Billy was only pretending to be dead, yet so well did Unc' Billy pretend that it was hard work for Farmer Brown's boy to believe what he was sure was so—that Unc' Billy was very much alive and only waiting for a chance to slip away.

They were half way from the hen yard to the house when Bowser the Hound came to meet his master. "Now we shall see what we shall see," said Farmer Brown's boy as Bowser came trotting up. "If Unc' Billy can stand this test I'll take off my hat to him every time we meet hereafter."

He held Unc' Billy out to Bowser and Bowser sniffed him all over. "Just imagine that! Just think of being nosed and sniffed at by one of whom you were terribly afraid and not so much as twitching an ear. Farmer Brown's boy dropped Unc' Billy on the ground and Bowser rolled him over and sniffed at him and then looked up at his master, as much as to say: "This fellow doesn't interest me. He's dead. He must be the fellow I saw go under the henhouse last night. How did you kill him?"

Farmer Brown's boy laughed and picked Unc' Billy up by the tail again. "He fooled you, all right, old fellow, and you don't know it," said he to ing carried head down and being dropped on the ground, but this was too much for him. He wanted to sneeze. He HAD to sneeze. He DID sneeze. He couldn't help it, though it were to cost him his life.

"Land of love!" exclaimed Mrs. Brown jumping back and clutching her skirts in both hands, as if she expected Unc' Billy would try to take refuge behind them. "Do you mean to say that that Possum is alive?" "Seems that way," replied Farmer Brown's boy as Unc' Billy sneezed again, for that straw was still tickling his nose. "I should certainly say it seems that way. The old sinner is no more dead than I am. He's just pretending. He fooled you all right, mother, but he didn't fool me. You ought to know me well enough by this time to know that I wouldn't hurt him."

He looked at his mother reproachfully and she hastened to apologize. "But what could I think?" she demanded. "If he isn't a dead looking critter I never have seen one. What are you going to do with him, son?" "Take him over to the Green Forest after breakfast and let him go," replied Farmer Brown's boy. And that is just what he did do.

"HETTY"

Wherein Three Types of "Vulgar" Women Are Discussed by Hetty and Mr. Jackson.

BEGIN HERE

Hetty Anderson, 22, leaves Rogers after her mother's death, comes to Waco, and settles in a cheap boarding house, where she meets a rather fascinating woman, Mrs. Nell Brady, who has left her husband for "Billy" Matthews, a well-to-do man about town. When Hetty takes Hetty out with him and Nell, he falls in love with Hetty, and a scene with Nell follows. Hetty secures a position at Sunger's during the White Sale, has a day full of hard situations, in one of which she has a tilt with a purse-proud woman.
That evening Billy meets her in his car and takes her for a drive through Cameron Park. In an unguarded moment he kisses her. A scene between the three, Nell, Billy and Hetty, follows, in which Hetty and Nell repudiate Billy, and resume their own friendship. The next day Hetty secures a position in the Bethlehem Machinery company, of which A. H. Durham is the manager. When catered with Nell at the St. Charles cave that day, Nell shows her a letter from her husband, Jack Brady, in which he asks her to come back. Nell tells Hetty that she is going to meet him
Saturday night.

Hetty discovers that the "Boss" is a hard man to get along with, and that the bookkeeper of this Bethlehem company is a snob, who does not deign to speak to her, but is all smiles for the society girl, who calls at the office.
Hetty is cheered at the cold, inhospitable office by the coming in of a drummer, Mr. Jackson, who is, according to his own designation, "Little Sunshine."
The next day, Sunday, Hetty is tortured with homesickness, especially after the departure of Nell.

In a triangular conversation between Hetty, a Mr. Jackson and Mrs. Simmons,
Nell is defended by both Hetty and Mr.
Jackson against Mrs. Simmons' coarse remarks.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

Chapter 42.

Mrs. Simmons gasped and sat up straight in her chair. Her sudden gray eyes snapped with righteous indignation. All the traditions which she and her kind had hugged for centuries rose up to share her wrath.

"That's a scandalous way to talk, Miss Anderson. I thought better of you than that. Why, you look like a nice, sweet girl. It's that bad woman that has got hold of you. As Brother Daniels said this morning, we got to watch our associates," she said piously.

"I'm not upholding her in her wrongdoing (if she has done serious wrong),
and I think you understand me, Mr.
Jackson. But I did admire her for getting more out of life than three meals a day. And I loved the way she wore her clothes, cleaned her finger-nails so nicely and brushed her hair a hundred strokes before going to bed."

"In other words, Miss Anderson, you hate dull and untidy people and I do, too. To me there is nothing more hopeless than the uninterested and uninteresting woman who stands behind the man she married and thanks God that she is virtuous." He brought his fist down on the table with a whack that bounced the colored vase. Mrs. Simmons was still gaping.

"Why, Mr. Jackson, I'm surprised at you," her landlady asserted, her slow mind striving to understand the conversational muddle into which she had gotten herself. "You ain't saying Nell Brady done right, air you? I guess you think I ought to hug and kiss her next time I see her. Like as not she will be with another man."

"You'd have to go out of your way to do it, I'm afraid. I'm sure she has no more love for you than you have for her." Mr. Jackson softened this with a wide smile. "But, seriously, there are two kinds of women that I can't bear to have near me. One is the kind I have just mentioned—the almost sexless type of woman that lacking imagination, fills her mental vacuum with love of scandal, while saying all the time, 'ain't some women awful?' She is tickled to death to have the Nell Brady to talk about and would die of lack of interest in life if several women of her acquaintance did not 'fall' every year or two for her special benefit. This woman goes to church as if it were a preliminary 'school for scandal,' and nods her chin over what the preacher says, puffing out her chest over being 'virtuous.' The big reason why she is virtuous is often because no man has seen fit to argue the contrary."

"I know just what you mean, Mr.

Jackson," I broke in excitedly. "All my life I have lived with these very same women and have hated them, without knowing that I had a reason to. And there are girls just like them.
They are not pretty or attractive, so they can't stand for any other girl to get happiness out of being pretty or attractive. They say so proudly that no boy ever kissed them, and then they shut the door of their room and read
"Three Weeks," or Snappy Stories, for the same feeling the other girl gets from being kissed. And they imagine themselves the heroine and thrill and thrill in pointless passion. I think they are worse than the other girls, don't you?"

Mrs. Simmons was looking rather helplessly from one of us to another, trying to marshal her slow wits for a cutting reply. But before she succeeded Mr. Jackson, after a long, keen look at me, began again, directing his remarks at me:

"I certainly do think those mental dissipators are bad, Miss Anderson, but let me tell you another kind of woman whom I think is even worse.
Your kind of girl takes her dissipation secretly and enjoys it."

"But consider this type of woman:
She is rich. She has been rich all of her life, and her people before her for generations before her had comfort.
She didn't have to study hard in school,
for she was the daughter of So-and-So.
She dowered away her time till she was grown, learning a little smearing of painting, a little of music and less of books. She can't talk intelligently on any subject. She married a distinctly older man, because the family would "profit" by the alliance. She has no children, because she doesn't want to be bothered. She spends most of her time with choosing her clothes and then wearing them. She parades up and down Austin street in her limousine making the less fortunate envious of a woman not fit for them to associate with. She is vulgar because she has sold her body to convenience. She is a prodigal, a waster. There is no excuse for her not having made at least a decent human being of herself.
With money and good breeding, descended from the F. F. V.'s, she might without overexertion have been at least intelligent. And yet women fall over themselves to get invited to her parties, or to be seen speaking to her in the stores. Bah! If all women were like her and the amiable specimens you mentioned, it would be a blamed good thing for the world if all the women were like good old Nell. I have known Nell some time, and she is at least honest. She didn't kid herself.

She acknowledged facts rather pitifully, and that Jack and the kids almost worship her speaks mighty well for her, it seems to me."

I know that tears were in my eyes when he finished. I was really touched at his splendid defense of my impulsive friend. But Mrs. Simmons rose stiffly from her chair, her wrath and virtuous indignation having at last forced her to action.

"If you were not a mighty good boarder, with no back bills to hold against you, Mr. Jackson, this house wouldn't hold you long. And you ought to be ashamed to put such ideas into a young girl's head." With that our landlady disappeared into the dining room.

Our conversation was abruptly terminated by the ringing of the telephone and a summons for me, Clara grinning knowingly as she told me that I was wanted. It was Billy.

It will be interesting to his many friends here to learn of his enlistment and of his plans for the signal corps branch. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Byars, plan to pay him a visit next month.

NEGRO OFFICERS WORKING HARD IN TRAINING CAMP

WHITE ARMY OFFICERS TEACH THESE STUDENTS FUNDAMENTAL RULES OF WAR.

By Associated Press.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 22.—Patterned after the four officers' training camps established a month ago, the training camp for the negro officers that are to hold commands in the colored regiments provided for under the selective conscription law, was opened today at Fort Des Moines with the student enrollment set at 1,200.

Col. C. C. Ballou of the Thirty-seventh United States Infantry, in command of the camp, is assisted by a staff of white officers of the regular army, thirteen in number, and as the work progresses some of the students with military training will be called on to assist.

For three months the embryonic officers, carefully selected from applicants in the six territorial departments of the United States, will be drilled on field and in lecture room for possible service abroad under Major General Pershing, who was a classmate of Colonel Ballou at West Point in the class of 1886.

In addition to the approximately 1,000 candidates selected in the various departments, 250 negro noncommissioned officers of the regular army are trying for commissions. The latter were selected from the Ninth and Tenth cavalry and the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth infantry.

A majority of the candidates are college men; many of them prominent in the professions of the law or medicine, or with considerable business training. Quite a number, in addition to the noncommissioned officers, have had some military training, both practical and theoretical.

The senior instruction officer is Major Castle and the other white instructors are Majors Sturtevant and Ingram, Adjutant McIlroy, Captains Ragsdale, Reistee, Steever and Everington, and Lieutenants Prink, Murray, Nalle and Ord. The quartermaster is Captain Wallace. Two negro reserve officers, Maj. A. W. Ford and Capt. Joseph Phillips, may be added to the force of instructors.

There have been many applications in excess to the number desired in camp, Colonel Ballou said, but some of those appointed had wined or written that they would be unable to attend, and it might be necessary to draw additional candidates from the applicants previously rejected. Colonel Ballou expects no difficulty in keeping the camp at its maximum quota.

Men were selected for the camp by the commanders of the various departments, with the number apportioned to each department based on the negro population, and orders to report at the camp were mailed to the men by these various department commanders. Colonel Ballou selected the 195 chosen from the central department, acting for Maj. Gen. Thomas Barry.

Reveille at 5:45 o'clock this morning brought the men and officers from bunk and bed, prepared for their first day of routine work that was to end tonight at 9:45 o'clock with taps. Very few rest periods are interspersed in the program for week days, and it was expected that before many hours of drill and lecture, Sunday would seem a long ways off.

The first day's program, which will be followed closely throughout the duration of the camp, called for activity times as follows: 5:45 a. m., reveille; 6 a. m., morning mess; 7 a. m. to noon, morning instruction; 12:15, noon mess; 1:30 to 4:30 p. m., afternoon instruction; 4:45 p. m., sick call; 5:50 p. m., retreat; 6 p. m., night mess; 7 to 9 p. m., study period; 9:30 p. m., call to quarters, and 9:45 p. m., taps.

Instructions for the operation of the camp, Colonel Ballou said, "are precisely the same as to all training camps with such slight changes as are necessitated by the difference in personnel. The day-to-day program will be about the same, with a few lectures in addition to those called for in the war department instructions.

The noncommissioned officers from the regular army, the camp commandant said, have been divided equally among the fourteen companies already organized on a "skeleton" basis, and which will be brought to full strength as the camp membership attains its full quota.

Many of these "noncoms" and other student officers with military training will be called on to aid in drilling the men in the rudiments of soldiery, and Colonel Ballou expects to cut his school into squads of about eight men, each to have its own instructor to "drive home" the most intimate and seemingly trivial points.

"There will be no favoritism shown the army noncommissioned officers or others called upon to aid in drill or lecture work," Colonel Ballou said. "Every man will be measured individually on his merits when the time comes for recommending commissions."

An opportunity will be given each student to show his ability as an officer before the training is ended. Full companies will be organized with student officers in every capacity, and there will be a rotation of duties to test the ability of each man from the ranks to the captaincy.

TEXAS GOOD ROADS MEET CLOSES AT MINERAL WELLS

By Associated Press.

Mineral Wells, June 22.—The Texas Good Roads association adjourned today after endorsing the designation of the first state highway route from El Paso to Fort Worth to Dallas to Texarkana, by the state highway commission, which adjourned last night.

Twenty-four other highways, crisscrossing the state for a total of 8,830 miles, have been tentatively designated by the highway commission. The state was divided into six engineering divisions with headquarters as follows: No. 1, Dallas; No. 2, Fort Worth; No. 3, Amarillo; No. 4, Houston; No. 5, San Antonio; and No. 6, San Angelo.

Chairman Hancock explained that such divisions and the highways are designated tentatively and are subject to change later. The convention adopted a resolution endorsing reclamation and conservation and pledging its support to the amendment to be voted on August 21.

40 OF 55 ANTI-DRAFT SUSPECTS ARE IN TOILS

By Associated Press.

Dallas, June 22.—Federal officials announced today that forty of the fifty-five men recently indicted here for alleged seditious conspiracy against the enforcement of the selective draft law have been arrested.

Among those taken into custody yesterday and today, it was said, were the following:

Z. L. Riskey, state president of the Farmers and Laborers' Protective association of America, at Leander, Tex. W. T. Webb, state secretary of the socialist party in Texas and said to have been active in the Farmers and Laborers' Protective association of America, at Cisco, Texas.

John Burnett and J. B. Harris at Weinert.

Coy Henderson at Robert Lee.

George Matthews, Frank Karo and Frank Black at Thurber.

Several of the indicted men, officials say, have fled from Texas.

Further important developments are promised.

REPORT ON TEXAS RECRUITING SHOWS BRIGHTER PROSPECT

By Associated Press.

Houston, June 22.—North and Northeast Texas are more awake to the necessity of recruiting the national guard of Texas to full war strength by July 1 than are Southwest Texas and the Gulf coast country, according to Brig. Gen. John A. Hulen, commanding officer of the guard. Indications are the North Texas units will be recruited to full strength by July 1, while in some parts of the Southwest and the Gulf coast country the units are just beginning to recruit.

"It is difficult to make the people understand the gravity of the situation," was the statement given out at headquarters.

20,000 BAKERS AGREE AGAINST RETURN OF STALES

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 22.—More than 22,000 bakers throughout the country have agreed with the commercial economy board to begin on July 10 to refuse returns of stale bread from dealers. By thus compelling housewives to order for their needs and dealers to confine supplies to actual demand, enough waste will be eliminated to feed 200,000 persons, besides releasing many employees for other necessary work.

CORN PLANTED LATE MADE SATISFACTORY YIELD

An incident of the conditions existing in 1860, recalled by an old-time resident of Waco, should be of special interest at this time.

He states that in 1860, in this part of the state, corn was planted during February by practically everybody then farming. It was a very dry year and the ground was so dry at planting time that the corn did not even sprout. Good rains came in August, states the resident, and corn came up, made a very good yield, and was pulled later than almost ever known.

PATRIOTISM ASLEEP WHEN COUNTRY IS IN DEEP PERIL

By Associated Press.

Dallas, June 22.—"I am afraid the people of Texas are trying to shirk service instead of seeking service," Judge J. M. Wagstaff of Abilene, chairman of the committee on sanitation and medicine of the state council of defense, declared in an address today before the League of Texas Municipalities here.

Judge Wagstaff said that the patriotism of the country is asleep at a time when the nation is facing the greatest crisis in its history. He pleaded with the members of the league to return to their homes and arouse enthusiasm in the war.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Speer of Austin, chairman of the Texas anti-vice crusade, urged the league to aid in the work of ridding Texas towns and cities of their immoral districts, especially wherever men and boys will be trained for the army.

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED—NO CHARGE.

1. Vesti La Guibba (On With the Play)—I Pagliacci Leoncavallo

Guido Ciccolini, Tenor.

Ciccolini is heard to fine advantage in this wonderful aria, for all the passion with which it is filled requires the best interpretation a singer can give.

2. Sweet Dreams of Home Engleman
American Symphony Orchestra

A dread of the old home, the garden and the Old Mill Stream was the inspiration for Sweet Dreams of Home.

3. Come Back to Erin, Mona Darling Reed
George Wilton Ballard, Tenor and Quartette

An Irish ballad which Ballard sings to his most enjoyable style.

4. Songs We Used to Sing in Dixie Land Caro Roma
Merle Alcock, Contralto

The lyric tells of memories of Dixie Land, and the music—well certainly four of Foster's negro songs should give the true atmosphere of the "Sunny South."

5. I Legende Wieniawski
Richard Czerwonsky, Violin

Several beautiful and interesting themes comprise this number. Czerwonsky is entirely able to give depth as well as color to his renditions.

6. Lo! Hear the Gentle Lark Bishop
Marie Kaiser, Soprano

This number starts with a brilliant flute introduction. The melody is light and sparkling, and suggests the song of the merry lark itself.

7. Ma Lady Lu Brill
Walter Van Brunt, Tenor and Chorus

A croony, "coon" song! Typical of the best of old Southern melodies.

8. Carmen—Waltz Song Wilson-Richards
Metropolitan Quartet

Carmen is thoroughly Spanish, and arranged as a quartet is an exceptionally charming number.

Fiery Eczema and Skin Eruptions Readily Yield to This Old Remedy

Successfully used for fifty years.

Eczema and similar skin troubles come from a disordered, impure condition of the blood, and they can only be cured by giving the blood a thorough cleansing, and removing from it all traces of impurity.

This is why S. S. S. has been used so successfully in hundreds of cases of Eczema and other skin eruptions. This wonderful remedy is without an equal as a blood purifier, being probably the oldest blood medicine on the market. It has been sold by druggists for fifty years.

San Antonio, June 22.—Jake May, who was knocked off the rubber by Waco last Sunday, who returned Monday and beat the Tars 1 to 0, took another fall out of them today, when he again held Hardy's men to four hits and won the decision 3 to 1. Dickinson, who pitched the game Sunday that May was taken out of and won it by a one-sided score, again was opposed to the young left-hander today, but it wasn't his day for pitching. He managed to get by the first two innings successfully but in the third he blew up and a timely single by Perry drove in two runs. In the two and a fraction innings he allowed four hits, walked three men and two runs had scored when the rally was stopped by Sims. The latter pitched good ball until the eighth, when he walked Perry. Dunckel sacrificed, Sicking went out, Cook walked and then May further put his game on ice by driving in the Nav base with an extra run.
Local fans are looking forward to the coming of Shreveport Sunday for a five-game series, during which it is expected the cellar championship may be decided.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN WORKING IN FIELDS

Waco people who have been out in the country in Central Texas during the past few weeks declare that there has not been a time in years when so many women and children could be seen working in the fields.

This is attributable, it is thought, to the high price of farm products and the hope of making every acre count for as much as possible. The women and children are not only trying to make the farm yield more, but are adding to the effectiveness of the United States in the great war. Women and small children had almost stopped working in the fields, but the past two years they have been drawn back in large numbers. It is believed this will only last during the war, probably. Many farmers are not having the women and children work, but many others are. And it is noted, also, that farm work is in many cases going on until nearly or quite dark, instead of the workers stopping early.

GOVERNMENT PAPER IS BEING RECEIVED HERE

Visual evidence of a subscription made some little time ago to the loan made the allies was received Friday by Col. W. W. Seley when he received five crisp "promises to pay" from the national government for $10,000 each.

A subscription of $50,000 was made by Colonel Seley to the loan made the allies previous to the issuance of the liberty bonds, this issue bearing 3-1/2 per cent, also, and at the time he turned the money over to the government Uncle Sam had not yet prepared the paper which was to be given in return. It was only yesterday that this was received.

BELL'S HILL ENGINE CO. WILL AID RED CROSS

Bell's Hill Engine company has voted to contribute all funds in the treasury, after bills are paid, to the Red Cross fund, and it is thought this action will be ratified at a regular meeting of the company. There is $66 in the treasury and it is believed the Red Cross will get more than half of this.

MAYOR DOLLINS TO COME BACK FROM DALLAS SOON

Mayor John Dollins will return from Dallas, where he went to attend a meeting of the mayors and city planners, either today or tonight.

The Dallas meeting has been full of interesting matters and discussion has been very edifying and of a practical character.

PRESIDENT WM. EDMOND OF Y. M. B. L. RECREATING

President William Edmond of the Young Men's Business League is spending a while in Mineral Wells, where he went a short time ago.

He has not been well recently and the trip to Mineral Wells is expected to do him much good. Not only will the recreation feature be beneficial, but the excellent waters of that great resort are expected to have good results. It will be the wish of many friends in Waco that the rest and the waters of the great wells may work a complete restoration of President Edmond, and it is felt that there is little doubt that this will be the case.

STREET RAILWAY MEN ALLOWED TO KEEP COOL

The arrangement which has been made by the management of the local street railway company for allowing the men on the cars to wear a neat blue shirt with white collar in lieu of coat and shirt, has placed the men where they can be much more comfortable during the hot term.

All the men are supposed to have the shirts ready for use by July 1, in order to secure uniformity in dress, and many of them already are wearing them among the conductors and motormen. The shirt and collar gives a neat appearance to the men. The shirts have sufficient pockets to make them usable by the men in dealing with their pencils and car books.

BRAZOS RIVER PILING MAY BE INVESTIGATED

It is possible that parties soon will go before the city commission in an effort to have certain piling in the Brazos river removed, on the ground that it is obstructing the river and causing accumulations of sand and gravel.

It is claimed by some that the piling is getting in the way of the best results from the lock and dam below Waco, but this has not been formally passed on by engineers. The river is looking good in front of Waco now, but it is claimed that it would be in much better condition if the river bed did not have any more sand in it than it had fifteen years ago.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ANNUAL ELECTION NEAR

The annual election of officers of the Chamber of Commerce will be held next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The places to be filled at this election are: President, two vice presidents, secretary and treasurer. The organization has had a very busy time for the past few months, and with the big army camp propositions on are likely to be busy for some time to come, not to mention other matters which probably will arise.

PLANS BEING LAID FOR STREET CAR EXTENSIONS

Many are interested in the extension or extensions to be made by the street car company to the army encampment grounds.

Nothing definite has been announced regarding this matter, but discussion is turning on two lines which may be extended to the camp. It is believed that the North Fifth street line may be the first extension, and then, when it is found that the camp is permanent, it is believed the Provident Heights or North Ninth street line will reach out for the camp.

TO ATTEND A FAMILY REUNION AT MAYPEARL

For the purpose of attending a big family reunion at Maypearl, Ellis county, his old home, Rev. J. M. Dawson left Friday for that point.

The reunion was arranged and planned by his grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Underwood, 76 years of age. It is expected that there will be at least 100 present, the reunion to last two days. Rev. Mr. Dawson was invited and agreed to deliver the anniversary sermon this evening.

WACO ADVERTISERS TO MEET THURSDAY NIGHT

A meeting of the Waco Advertisers' club will be held next Thursday night in the gold room of the Raleigh hotel, beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

So many members went on the trade trip Thursday that it was impossible to hold the meeting that night. The educational and entertainment committees of the organization will furnish the program.

ALLEGED HILL COUNTY MAN DID NOT REGISTER

Robert Lee Griffin, a white man of Hill county, was before United States Commissioner A. P. McCormick Friday morning on a charge of failure to register for army service.

His bond was fixed at $500, to await action by the federal grand jury. Griffin was arrested a few days ago by Deputy United States Marshal J. A. Rogers of Waco.

CUCUMBER CROP HINDERED BY DROUTH AND INSECTS

Conditions for growing cucumbers have been poor, so it is claimed by many who are raising the cucumbers for pickle factories of Waco.

The abnormally dry winter and lack of spring rains affected cucumbers as it has other crops, the reserve supply of moisture proving insufficient in most cases. Cucumber growers understand that conditions are worse than for many years, however, and probably will not be discouraged. There was some trouble from insects this past spring, also.
